Closing Thoughts 4

Dear Friends,

This week the Pentagon announced that the ban on U.S. women in combat has been lifted. In the name of equality women can now suffer the pains of front line conflict along with men. They can be equally tortured, raped, and killed. It is mind numbing to hear the foolish explanations of the left wing propagandists, such as some women are as strong as men! Even if that was true, the rare possibility of the existence of such a woman does not excuse the perverse idea of women on the battlefield. Because she is strong enough, just forget her feminine being and put her in harms way? It is womanhood itself that is being purposefully denigrated in the name of equality.

On several occasions I have spoken with soldiers who told me of the mind twisting incongruity they have had to endure in their training. On the one hand, men go through hours of battle scenarios meant to help them learn to ignore the screams and cries of fellow women soldiers under torture. On the other hand, the male soldiers are instructed on the political correctness of saying nothing that can be taken as insensitive or sexist. How can you both ignore women and be sensitive to them?

This has nothing at all to do with true equality. This has to do with the ongoing systemized destruction of the God ordained gender identities of man and woman. The hairy-chested super woman who kicks and punches her way past bad guys and dodges bullets in order to save the day only exists in media fantasy. In some rare and limited degrees, as the East Germans did to their female Olympic champions, such a woman may result from the defeminizing devilish effort to make her as manly as possible. She may succeed as a neuter soldier but fail as a woman. No real man will ever love such a woman. He cannot. Her demonically driven need is to compete with and ultimately conquer man. The same spirit of perversion seeks to make men ashamed for desiring to be the protector, defender, and rescuer of woman.

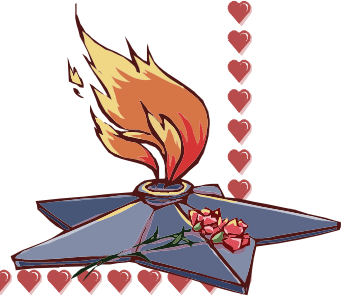

The goal of radical feminism has ever and always been not just to secure equal pay for equal work, but ultimately to destroy the very identities of male and female. “The end goal of the feminist revolution is the elimination of the sex distinction itself.” (Shulamith Firestone, The Dialectic of Sex, 1972.) “The forms of sexuality considered natural have been socially constructed and therefore can be socially transformed.” (Gary Kinsman, The Regulation of Desire, 1987.) “If gay liberationists ever achieve full equality they will do away with the social need for the hetero/homo division...” (Jonathan Katz, The Invention of Heterosexuality, 1995.) Allen Young, a pioneer of gay liberation, said that in a truly free society as the one for which his movement aims, everyone can be sexually active in any form they desire once the onerous imposition of sex roles and gender identity are erased.

What can be done to salvage humanity? Small as it may sound, what I say here is vital, and if you do it, you will make huge headway in the redemptive direction. Love your wife, husband. Love your husband, wife. Teach your sons and daughters by both example and with careful explanation, what is happening to gender, sexuality, and romance. For those who are single, be a light to the young in your world and be outspoken when you see perversion being tolerated. Become thoroughly educated on the warfare over sexual identity and then never stay quiet! Be able to explain why evil is evil and why we must not embrace it in the name of being loving and tolerant. Let your home, your family, be the shining example of healthy normalcy in a world of howling-at-the-moon madness. The time will come when your little island of goodness will be a place of refuge and rescue for those drowning in the cesspool of so called equality.

Weep for the woman who laid down her life
On a battlefield far from her home.
Weep for the young man who made her his wife,
And weep for the fruit of their womb.
Weep for the husband and motherless child
As sad soldiers bring death to their door.
But weep most of all for a land so defiled
That it sends wives and mothers to war.

The Odd Life of Timothy Green

I don't think the writers and producers of this great little story meant to make a strong prolife statement. But by simply celebrating the goodness of marriage and the natural longing for children, it does. Check it out.

Some Closing Thoughts...

We want to thank you all for the many Christmas cards, notes, and phone calls during the holiday season. They mean so much to us and we read every note, letter, and card. We are so sorry we are unable to respond to each one personally. Please know how much we take to heart your kind words, and pray for each request.

Also, even in the face of unusually demanding financial times, we thank you for your end of the year outpouring of financial support.

May God continue to bless you all with His loving presence, and even more so during this valentine month.

In His Joy, Clay & Mary
